2021/22 2nd semester
UGED2901 Death and Immortality 死亡與不朽
Course Outline

Instructor: Dr. Kwok Pak Nin, Samson
Time: Tuesday 14:30-17:15
Teaching Mode: Face to face
Venue: LSK LT3

Course overview:

This course examines the issues of human death from the philosophical as well as cultural, psychological, medical and sociological perspectives. Students will develop an interdisciplinary perspective in the fields of philosophy, sociology, psychology, cultural studies, and medical science by understand how these studies have responded to key questions concerning death and immortality. Topics to be discussed include: What is the definition of life and death? What is the nature and badness of death? Should we choose for immortality? The practical issues related to death such as suicide, euthanasia, human extinction, and the meaning of life will be discussed as well.

Learning outcomes:

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- cite the major arguments in the current philosophical debates over the issues of death;
- recount the historical, scientific, social and cultural contexts of the debate;
- discuss the broad range of practical issues about life and death;
- form a conclusion about their own view on death and defend it with a strong, logical reasoning.

Learning activities and workload:

Feedback for evaluation:

1. Students are strongly encouraged to provide feedback on the course via email or meetings with lecturer.
2. Students evaluate the course through a survey and written comments at the end of the term as well as via regular feedback between teacher and students. This information is highly valued and is used to revise teaching methods, tasks, and content.

Academic honesty and plagiarism:

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations.

Details may be found at <http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/> .

With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures. For group projects, all students of the same group should be asked to sign the declaration.

For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment. Assignments without the receipt will not be graded by teachers. Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.
